Old Southwest comes to MCC’s stage
Concert set for Oct. 14

Music, with a blend of times past and mixture of blues, folk, jazz and early country, comes to the McCain Theater stage on Tuesday, Oct. 14, when Old Southwest performs for Meridian Community College’s Arts & Letters Series.

The concert gets under way at 7 p.m. Tickets are $10, adults; $5, children.

Old Southwest, comprising of Meridian’s own sibling duo, Chase Neal and Amber Neal, bring in their full band for an evening of storytelling and music for callused hands, Indian summers, schoolmarm and haunted halls.

Born on the red clay hills of east Mississippi, Old Southwest sings songs of forgotten places, faces and times. This Americana-style group draws together music that is simple, and adds lyrics that are intentional and antiquated harmonies to pull it all together.
